

Injury Care Associates

OCCUPATIONAL MEDICINE

BT

Case Study

Boosting Site Safety: A BT Construction Success Story

ICA + BT Construction

BT Construction, a leading company in the construction industry, has partnered with Injury Care Associates to enhance its approach to workplace safety. Through this strategic collaboration, BT Construction has improved access to care for its employees while reducing injury-related downtime, reinforcing its commitment to workplace safety and employee well-being.

Lower ▾ Employee
Downtime

Enhanced Workforce
Morale

A Little About BT Construction

As a prominent player in the construction sector, BT Construction operates in environments where risks are prevalent and safety is paramount. BTC sought a partner to provide immediate triage and on-site medical services to support its team members, ensuring employee safety and access to care while minimizing disruption to its projects.

The Challenge

In the construction industry, managing on-site injuries efficiently is crucial to supporting your team and keeping projects moving. BTC needed a solution that would allow them to respond to injuries immediately in a patient-focused and cost-effective manner.

The Solution

Injury Care Associates provided BT Construction with on-site services tailored specifically to meet its needs. By deploying a team of skilled medical professionals directly to job sites on an as-needed basis, ICA ensures that injuries are evaluated swiftly, minimizing project impact, and ensuring team members access to quality medical care at the job site.

Decreased Downtime

Immediate triage and on-site medical care supports team members while limiting disruption to the project and team.

Improved Safety Culture

With 24/7 access to medical professionals, BTC reinforces its commitment to its team members and safety.

Employee Assurance

Workers feel more secure knowing that expert medical care is available to them in the event of a workplace injury.

Cost Savings

By limiting unnecessary emergency room visits for minor injuries, BTC achieved cost-savings while still ensuring team members received access to specialized medical care at the job site.

“

ICA's on-site services have been a game-changer for our projects. They deliver timely, reliable care directly at our sites,
which has immensely benefited our operations and workforce satisfaction.

Project Manager, BT Construction

BT Construction's success with ICA highlights the advantages of integrating on-site medical services in high-risk industries. This partnership shows that tailored healthcare solutions between local partners can lead to enhanced safety and operational success.

Want to elevate your Company's safety standards?

Contact Injury Care Associates today to explore how on-site medical services can be part of your team's injury response and risk management program.

Injury Care Associates
OCCUPATIONAL MEDICINE